Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance

Dear Sir:

This paper is being submitted in reply to the Examiner's Statement Of Reasons for Allowance accompanying a Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due, dated June 23, 2005. These Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance are accompanying payment of the issue fee, which is due on or before September 23, 2005. Therefore, these comments are being timely filed.

Remarks

Applicants gratefully acknowledge the indication of allowance for all pending claims in the above-referenced application. The comments provided herein are to address remarks made in the Statements for Reasons of Allowance accompanying the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due.

Applicants respectfully submit that the language recited for various of the claims mentioned in the Statement for Reasons of Allowance is not the language for that claim, but instead for another claim. For instance, the comments referring to independent claim 15 reflect the language of independent claim 1, instead of the language for independent claim 15. Similarly, the comments referring to independent claims 33, 40 and 50 refer to the language of independent claim 1, instead of the language for those claims.

As a further example, applicants note that in other paragraphs, when summarizing aspects of applicants' invention that include system claims, the comments refer to a method, instead of a system, as claimed (see, e.g., claims 21, 38, 39 and 41).

Respectfully submitted,

Blanche E. Schiller
